FACILITIES, GENERAL.

The camel's food storage room isn't adequately protecting three bags of pelleted feed and a large, open trough filled 1/3 way with loose pelleted feed. The room's ceiling has water damage that includes mold and hanging insulation that could contaminate the food. One of the pelleted feed bags was observed spilling food due to a hole likely chewed by vermin. This feed bag was adjacent to a hole in the wall that was open to the outdoors and had loose insulation present. These conditions could contaminate the food.

Assure all supplies of food are stored in facilities which adequately protect supplies against deterioration molding, or contamination.

To be corrected: 3-13-19

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with a facility representative. Another exit briefing was conducted with the licensee via phone.

ACCESS AND INSPECTION OF RECORDS AND PROPERTY; SUBMISSION OF ITINERARIES.

At the time of inspection an itinerary covering this traveling exhibit was not available within the database. A phone call to the regional office also did not uncover an itinerary. The absence of an itinerary inhibits inspection for compliance with regulations and standards of the Act while the animals are away from the home facility.

The licensee must submit an itinerary to the Regional Director no fewer than 2 days in advance of travel whenever the animals will be exhibited at a location other than the approved site(s) and whenever travel extends overnight. The itinerary shall contain complete and accurate information concerning the whereabouts of all animals intended for exhibition at any location other than the approved site.

This inspection and exit interview were conducted with the manager by Curt McGruder-ACI. The exhibit was taking place near Valles Mines, MO.

PROCUREMENT OF DOGS, CATS, AND OTHER ANIMALS; DEALERS.

The licensee purchased a male camel from an unlicensed source on 5-20-16. The camel has been used for rides and exhibits since its acquisition. Acquiring animals from unlicensed sources doesn't ensure that those facilities have met Animal Welfare Act requirements in order to be licensed.

Ensure that animal sources are licensed when required.

3.138(a)

PRIMARY CONVEYANCES (MOTOR VEHICLE, RAIL, AIR, AND MARINE).

The trailer loading ramp has a loose piece of sheet metal that was recently damaged. The sheet metal has separated from the frame, exposing a gap where the animals could potentially become injured.

The damaged portion of the ramp must be repaired or replaced to protect the safety of the animals.

2.126(a) CRITICAL

ACCESS AND INSPECTION OF RECORDS AND PROPERTY; SUBMISSION OF ITINERARIES.

An inspection of one of the TRA sites for All Things Wild was attempted on Oct 12, 2016 at approximately 11:00 am. The location was 1781 River Oak, Kaufman, TX. We were met at the facility gate by (b) (6), (b) (7)(C). He offered to allow 2 of the 3 inspector's entry to the property with his lawyer's approval. Licensees, or in this case an employee of a licensee, cannot choose which APHIS officials they allow to inspect nor can they delay an inspection if a competent adult is available to do that inspection. (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) statement was considered a refusal to allow APHIS officials to do an inspection.

During business hours licensees must allow APHIS officials to enter its place of business, examine records required to be kept by the Act and the regulations, to inspect and photograph the facilities, property and animals as the APHIS officials consider necessary.

2.3 REPEAT DEMONSTRATION OF COMPLIANCE WITH STANDARDS AND REGULATIONS.

At the time of this inspection the manager stated that the tigers are housed at a site in Kaufman, TX when not traveling. This is not an approved site. This licensee did notify USDA of a new site in Kaufman, TX, however the facility was not in compliance on the new site inspection conducted 7/26/12. The inspection report from 7/26/12 states: No regulated activities may be conducted until this site is in compliance with the Animal Welfare Act. Tigers housed at the Kaufman site should not be on exhibit until that site can pass an inspection.

Another employee stated that the farm animals are housed at a second site in Kaufman, TX. This site has had no inspections by USDA officials. It is not an approved site. Animals housed at this site cannot be used for regulated activities until the site has passed a USDA inspection.

2.40 (a) (1) ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

The manager provided USDA officials with two Programs of Veterinary Care (PVC). One for a veterinarian in Terrell, TX and one for a veterinarian in Harvard, IL. The only portion of either PVC form that was filled out was the section for the Veterinarians' contact information. USDA officials were also provided with three supplemental sheets with "Program of Veterinarian Care Details for 33-C-0388" as the title. These three sheets had a few very vague veterinary recommendations. The only species identified were tigers, cougars, and other large felids with one reference to blood parasites in goats. The rabbits, pigs, and cattle were not addressed at all. There were no signatures or dates on the supplemental information confirming they were provided by one or both of the attending veterinarians.

Licensees' with part time attending veterinarians must have a formal written arrangement with a veterinarian (PVC) that addresses the preventive care for all regulated species. This is required so that USDA personnel can confirm that the licensee is working with a knowledgeable veterinarian and is following the recommendations from that veterinarian.

In the case of multiple attending veterinarians, the species/duties that each veterinarian is responsible for must be identified.

Inspection Report

A program of veterinary care needs to be developed by one or both attending veterinarian that addresses all regulated species owned/exhibited by the licensee and the division of duties/species between the veterinarians.

Topics that should be covered in the PVC include but are not limited to:

- *The veterinarian's schedule for visits to the facility.
- *Parasite control program if appropriate for the species.
- *Vaccination recommendations if appropriate for the species.
- *Routine medical testing if appropriate for the species.
- *Instructions on necropsies for unexpected deaths.
- *Hoof trims for animals with chronic hoof problems.
- *Diets appropriate for each species
- *Any other medical/husbandry recommendations the veterinarian feels necessary for this facility.
- *Emergency contact information.

The PVC must be signed and dated by the attending veterinarian. This document must indicate to USDA representatives that the licensee and the veterinarian have an active working relationship.

To be corrected by June 1, 2016

2.125

INFORMATION AS TO BUSINESS; FURNISHING OF SAME BY DEALERS, EXHIBITORS, OPERATORS OF

USDA officials requested confirmation of employment for the manager, (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) multiple times during this inspection. The manager's response was she "would let the lawyers deal with that". Licensees must furnish to USDA officials any information concerning the business requested by USDA officials. The licensee needs to provide confirmation of employment for (b) (6), (b) (7)(C) to the Animal Care Western Regional office.

FEEDING.

The diet for the tigers at the time of this inspection consisted of chicken breasts and boneless pork roasts. The manager said they supplemented with "Felid T" vitamins. She showed us a white powder in a Tupperware container that had a duct tape label with Felid T written on it. A product container for Felid T was not available for review to determine if the correct amount of supplement was being given nor were there written instructions from one of the attending veterinarians. A diet of muscle meat without the correct supplements is not an adequate diet. Inadequate diets can lead to health conditions such as skeletal damage, neurological problems and other potentially irreversible health problems. A veterinarian knowledgeable with large felid nutrition needs to be consulted for the appropriate diet recommendations.

The manager was asked at the beginning of the inspection if she would be taping the inspection. She confirmed she would be.

Inspection and exit interview conducted with the manager, ACI Donovan Fox, and VMO Cindy DiGesualdo at Mayfest in Ft Worth, TX.

The licensee must submit an itinerary to the Regional Director no fewer than 2 days in advance of travel whenever the animals will be exhibited at a location other than the approved site(s) and whenever travel extends overnight. The itinerary shall contain complete and accurate information concerning the whereabouts of all animals intended for exhibition at any location other than the approved site.

FEEDING.

The diet for the tigers at the time of this inspection consisted of chicken breasts and boneless pork roasts. The manager said they supplemented with "Felid T" vitamins. She showed us a white powder in a Tupperware container that had a duct tape label with Felid T written on it. A product container for Felid T was not available for review to determine if the correct amount of supplement was being given nor were there written instructions from one of the attending veterinarians. A diet of muscle meat without the correct supplements is not an adequate diet. Inadequate diets can lead to health conditions such as skeletal damage, neurological problems and other potentially irreversible health problems. A veterinarian knowledgeable with large felid nutrition needs to be consulted for the appropriate diet recommendations.

The manager was asked at the beginning of the inspection if she would be taping the inspection. She confirmed she would be.

Inspection and exit interview conducted with the manager, ACI Donovan Fox, and VMO Cindy DiGesualdo at Mayfest in Ft Worth, TX.

The public is allowed to use kitchen tongs to feed raw meat to the tigers while having their photo taken by an attendant. The barrier that the public stands behind was about 3 feet high and was 32 inches away from the tiger enclosure. This height and distance was not enough to prevent people from leaning over the barrier far enough to potentially be able to stick their fingers or hands into the 2 inch by 4 inch openings of the enclosure. Insufficient distance or barriers between the animals and the public can compromise the safety of both. The licensee must ensure that there is sufficient distance and/or barriers between the general viewing public and the animals so as to assure the safety of the animals and the public.

The livestock trailer that is used to transport the camel is in disrepair. The metal roof has no fewer than five holes/areas of sharp, jagged metal that are protruding into the trailer. The sharp, jagged metal edges are directly accessible to the camel while it is housed or transported in the trailer. These areas could injure the animal.

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

The employees of the exhibit are using a nutritional supplement that does not have a label. The Manager of the exhibit said they were feeding a calcium supplement and produced a plastic container containing white powder and a metal scoop. However, she did not know the name of the product, the concentration, or the dose to be given. She said that the tigers received 4-5 scoops daily, but she didn't know how much each scoop held. #### FEEDING.

The tigers were being fed a diet with insufficient nutritive value. While traveling, the tigers' diet consists solely of bone-less pork and chicken. Tigers that don't receive sufficient bones in their diet need supplementation with calcium and vitamins, regardless of their age. The exhibit Manager stated that the supplement being given only contained calcium and was only being given to the two younger tigers. She stated that the adult tiger did not need any nutritional supplementation. Furthermore, the Manager did not know the dose of calcium being given; only that they receive 4-5 scoops of calcium supplement without knowing how much each scoop held. Tigers that receive inadequate calcium or vitamins can develop health conditions such as skeletal structural damage, neurological problems, or other potentially irreversible health problems including death. The licensee must ensure that food for large felids is of sufficient quantity and nutritive value to maintain all animals in good health.

ATTENDING VETERINARIAN AND ADEQUATE VETERINARY CARE (DEALERS AND EXHIBITORS).

Section 2.40(b)(2) - Attending veterinarian and adequate veterinary care. Each dealer or exhibitor shall establish and maintain programs of adequate veterinary care that include the use of appropriate methods to prevent, control, diagnose, and treat diseases and injuries.

- The facility had medications that were past the expiration date. There were also medications that were not properly labeled. There was a bottle of Tolazoline HCL that expired 7/14/12. There was a bottle of Sulfamethoazole and Trimethoprim tablets that expired May 11. These medications were not approved by a veterinarian for use in large felids. There was a container of Panacur that did not contain an expiration date. There was a container of Trimethoprim Sulfadiazine that did not contain an expiration date. These medications were intermingled with other pharmaceuticals that are currently being used and are therefore ready for use. The licensee must ensure that all medications used in the facility are not expired and are labeled properly in accordance with standard veterinary practices and manufacturer's recommendations. All medications not labeled for use in large felids must be approved by a veterinarian.

HANDLING OF ANIMALS.

Section 2.131(a) - Handling of animals. All licensees who maintain wild or exotic animals must demonstrate adequate experience and knowledge of the species they maintain.

- The person that accompanied the inspectors during the inspection did not have the requisite experience and knowledge to handle the cougars and tigers. She told us that she was the General Manager for the facility and was responsible for the animals at the facility. Before we started the inspection, she contacted the licensee and the facility's Large Carnivore Supervisor and stated they would be on a conference call and that they would be on the phone during the inspection. The licensee dropped off the call soon after we started and the Large Carnivore Supervisor, not the General Manager, answered most of our questions concerning the animals and the facility. The facility did not have a training plan. The individual's training records consisted of a topic and a completion date. There was no indication on the training record of the person that conducted the training. Subsequent to the inspection, an email received from the facility's Large Carnivore Supervisor stated that "As for a "training plan" or "manual", we do not incorporate one. Since the large amount of our training topics are practical related, we utilize the field-training method". The Large Carnivore Supervisor is involved in the field-training of the employee. An administrative law judge has ruled the Large Carnivore Supervisor does not have the knowledge and experience to handle large felids and that the Large Carnivore Supervisor has violated the Animal Welfare Act in the past when handling large felids. The lack of knowledge and experience in these animals can endanger the lives of the animals as well as the lives of the viewing public and animal caretakers. The licensee must ensure the persons that are involved in the handling and husbandry of the animals be experienced and knowledgeable of the species they maintain.

FACILITIES, GENERAL.

Section 3.125(a) - Structural strength. The facility must be constructed of such material and of such strength as appropriate for the animals involved. The indoor and outdoor housing facilities shall be structurally sound and shall be maintained in good repair to protect the animals from injury and to contain the animals.

- There were two areas in the facility that were not maintained in good repair. The shelter floor for one tiger enclosure had areas that were buckled and the floor covering was loose. In another tiger enclosure, the metal below the bottom portion of entryway into the shelter was rusted and had jagged edges. All areas in an enclosure must be maintained to protect the animals from injury. These areas must be repaired or replaced.

- The primary enclosure fencing for three tiger enclosures was not adequate. The enclosures separately house an 18 month old male white tiger, an 11 year old male white tiger, and another male tiger. All three enclosures had chainlink fencing that was approximately nine feet seven inches high. There were two wires at the top of the vertical fencing extending into the interior that were electrified. There was a "kick-in" at the top of the fence that bent from approximately 90 degrees to 135 degrees toward the interior. The "kick-ins" were approximately 26 inches in length. There was a tree in the corner that extended over the top of the enclosure for the 18 month old tiger. The height and configuration of these enclosures are not adequate to ensure that the animals will be securely contained under all circumstances. These enclosures could result in the escape of the animals. The licensee must replace, repair, modify, or stop using the enclosures to house these animals. The licensee must ensure that all enclosures are designed and constructed so that they will securely contain the animals at all times.

No regulated activities may be conducted until this site is in compliance with the Animal Welfare Act.

The inspection was conducted by the facility general manager, Jennifer Schmitz, Compliance Specialist, and Jeff Baker, Veterinary Medical Officer.

An exit briefing was conducted by telephone with the facility general manager, the facility large carnivore supervisor, the licensee, and Jeff Baker, Veterinary Medical Officer.

Inspection Report

This information is:*** The W-2 form for the employee (b)(6) (b)(7)(C) is in charge of the Tiger exhibit.

***A copy of the written lease for the transportation truck and trailer used for the tigers being exhibited. This consists of a Ford one ton truck license plate number (b)(6) (b)(7)(C) and a triple axle goose neck trailer license plate number (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) stated by (b)(6) (b)(7)(C) to be leased from USZS Inc. by Michael Todd.

**** A copy of the written lease of the property that is presently used for the primary facility for the 10 Tigers and 2 Cougars purchased by Michael Todd from (b)(6), (b)(7)(C). This facility and property are those formerly used by (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) and (b)(6), (b)(7)(C), located in Kaufman, TX.

This information should be submitted to both the Eastern and Western regional offices of Animal care by the following date: 6/22/12

This routine inspection and exit interview were conducted with the licensee and his staff, plus Donovan Fox, ACI and Kendall Lundy, ACI. This was conducted at the Wichita Riverfest in Wichita, KS.

The two tigers being exhibited under Michael Todd's USDA license (33-C-0388) are knowingly being exhibited by (b)(6), (b)(7)(C), customer number 7860, an individual whose license has been revoked. Revocation of a license prohibits this individual from buying, selling, transporting, exhibiting or delivering for transportation any animal. Allowing such individual to exhibit the animals is assisting in activities designed to directly circumvent a USDA license revocation order.

*****At time of inspection the exhibit allowed for the feeding of the adult white tigers by the use of tongs while the public doing the feeding stood behind a barrier. The barrier being used had bars which were spaced in such a manner that allowed for a small child's hand and arm to pass through so as to place the feeding tongs with the attached meat in the enclosure with the adult tigers. The barrier was of such a height and was located close enough to the tigers enclosure that a young person or adult could reach out and over the barrier and touch the enclosure.

During public exhibition any animal must be handled so that there is minimal risk of harm to the animal and to the public, with sufficient distance and or barriers between the animal and the general viewing public so as to assure the safety of the animals and the public.
